

Details of spar construction where web is of girder type are shown in E (below).

In F (above) is shown the corner lug by which the outer wing portion is bolted to the centre-section.

Details of centre-section front spar and method of attachment to fuselage are illustrated in G (above).